

Prof. Kaufmann-Kohler is a Founding Partner of Lévy Kaufmann-Kohler in Geneva and the President of ICCA. Now professor emerita of the University of Geneva (where she founded the MIDS program, and taught private international law and international arbitration), she is a visiting professor at various universities, incl. Georgetown, Sciences Po Paris, National University of Singapore and Tsinghua Beijing. Previously, she was a practicing attorney, partner with Schellenberg Wittmer, Geneva and before with Baker & McKenzie, Geneva and New York.

She has a doctorate from the University of Basle, a law degree from the University of Geneva, and is a member of the New York and Geneva Bars.

Regularly ranked among the top ten arbitrators worldwide, she focuses on international commercial and investment arbitration and has handled over 230 international arbitrations, as presiding, sole or party-appointed arbitrator, or as counsel.

She appears on all major panels including ICSID, ICC, AAA, CIETAC, SIAC, and is an expert within the Swiss delegation to UNCITRAL (transparency in investment arbitration and reform of ISDS).

She has authored and edited many books and articles in the field of international dispute settlement. List available at www.lk-k.com

She is proficient in English, French, German and Spanish.